Mothering Sunday at Wellington Eagles Primary Academy

The children at Wellington Eagles Primary Academy invited their mothers into school today. The hall was prepared for breakfast and beverages.

The staff had prepared the hall with decorated table clothes, flowers and a photo wall. The decorated wall featured handheld black boards for the pupils to write what they love the most about their mothers, with a handmade heart board. The mothers were then invited in for beverages and breakfast served by the canteen.

One pupil, used the board to write how their favourite thing about their mother was her hugs and kisses. The children loved using the black boards to write their own messages and mothers used the board to take photos of their children with the board.

One parent commented "I really appreciate the school taking the time to set up these events and inviting us into school. It is great to see our children so excited to celebrate Mother's Day in school with us. The hall looks great I love the personal touches the school have put into making it look so lovely, it was also a really great chance to talk with other parents at the school."

Mothers Sunday today is celebrated by children buying flowers, gifts or making cards for their mothers. In history, the day was originally when mainly daughters who had gone to work as domestic servants were given the day off to visit their mothers or family. Churchgoers in England all had their 'mother' church which became an occasion for family reunions once a year.
