Multi Academy Trust Celebrates the Importance of Reading

Schools within Ascend Learning Trust displayed their love of books through a day of fun activities and fancy dress.

Royal Wootton Bassett Academy used tutor to dress doors as their favourite book covers, with students bringing in cakes they have baked and decorated at home in a bid to win the first prize of vouchers and house points. Noremarsch Junior School hosted a book sale to allow children to purchase extra books on top of their World Book Day token with many fun activities in lesson.

Wellington Lions and Eagles pupils dived into character with a special appearance from Panda, Mr Tickles, Hermione and the Avengers. Wellington Lions have also just opened up a new library, making it their second library within the school.

The Wellington Academy staff and students dug out their best costumes with some staff and students going as far as to design their costumes from scratch. During tutor students were able to guess the teacher reading a story, create a book front cover, make bookmarks and much more.

This Academy is proud to be a part of the Ascend Learning Trust.

Lawn Manor Academy had pupils searching around the site to find 'Where's Wally', in tutor they had guess the teachers bookcase, along with the important job of designing bookmarks and bunting for the school's Library.
