Lions' Pride for New Trim Trail

Children at one school in Tidworth are getting extra fit thanks to a new play area.

Wellington Lions Primary Academy has recently bought and installed a new trim trail – natural wooden play and exercise equipment to use during lessons and breaktimes.

It replaces an old one, enhancing more opportunities for play and physical activity. Several children can use it at once which is ideal for lessons.

The large frames, which encourage pupils to climb, swing and balance during their PE and playtime, were built by West Country company Inspect and Repair.

Headteacher Amanda Dunstone said: “Our children love this bit of kit. Every day they can’t wait to get outside to play on it. We are so happy with our new play area.

“Education isn’t just about sitting in the classroom, being outdoors exploring and exercising is another part of our children's development and learning.

“Also, the quality of the equipment means we should get many years of good use out of it for our current pupils and those to come.”

The trim trail is situated in the main field at the Lions Primary Academy, close to the outdoor classroom.
